The newly revitalised Clos de la Commaraine is taking its place among the outstanding properties of the village. The new régisseur, Paul Krug, is working in a modern style. His flagship wine in 2024 is light in colour but very expressive aromatically, with a pronounced aroma of cherries and rose petals. The grapes are from a 3.63ha clos near the village itself. Krug's style is approachably supple but not lacking in structure or length. This will be accessible soon after bottling, but will also age gracefully.
